Sarasota based company meets stringent EPA requirements

Sarasota, FL – (July 24, 2009) – Trigon Refrigerant Group LLC, with offices located at 6222 Tower Lane in Sarasota, Florida, has become an EPA certified refrigerant reclaimer after meeting the stringent requirements of the EPA. Under the direction of Plant Manager Jeffrey Wilkins, Trigon Refrigerant is now cleaning refrigerants at its plant to ARI-700 standards which are set by the American Refrigerant Institute. “We are very proud to be able to handle our customers refrigerant needs from start to finish,” declared Wilkins. All of Trigon Refrigerant’s technicians hold EPA certifications and are able to test refrigerant using highly advanced on-site laboratory equipment. The technical staff at Trigon Refrigerant also designed, engineered, and built a custom-made packing bench that completes the cycle. The newly cleaned refrigerant is efficiently packaged in a variety of re-usable and disposable cylinders for sale under the Trigon Refrigerant brand.
